

PRESIDENT'S NEWSLETTER

March 2026

I am writing this newsletter while traveling back from warm and sunny Texas. I got to play in the dirt and plant jasmine and blackberries for our 9-year-old grandson Gunnar to tend. He loves hanging out in yard, tending to his bughouse and going to buy more plants! There were so many ladybugs!

Our committee chairs are busy setting up meetings and scheduling project workdays. Daffodil Days, what will be spectacular displays, have started to emerge throughout town and the Daffodil Photo Contest has made its first announcement. Preparing for our annual plant sale, all hands-on deck, divide your perennials and root your cuttings. Reach out if you need help digging or tending the tender plants.

March flew by, I thought I would have made more progress in my own yard but.... Never enough time.

Our March meeting was well attended for our program about RI Native Plants. Karen Asher's presentation was very lively and informative. We can never learn too much about this important subject. It's good for the club to know in general but also for our home gardens.

With Spring in our Step and garden gloves ready, get out there and enjoy the emerging blooms!

Cheers,
Mary-Frances
